

Maximum Effort Policy 2025

PURPOSE

Special Olympics New Zealand is committed to ensuring the quality of its sports events that clubs offer are of a high standard.

Due to both the unique divisioning process utilized at Special Olympics competitions to ensure that athletes are competing against other athletes of similar ability and the unique awards process which provides recognition to all competitors: it is necessary to employ the Maximum Effort Rule to ensure that participants are competing with Maximum Effort at all stages of competition.

Therefore, the Maximum Effort Rule is used to:

- a. To provide a fair competitive environment for athletes – Equalization of Competition
- b. To provide a resource for officials/event directors to create a fair competitive environment

Please note that the Maximum effort rule is a rule and not a guideline. This is not to be confused with the Special Olympics percentage guideline used to division athletes for equitable competition.

The following rules apply in the enforcement of the Maximum Effort Rule.

1. Percentage Rule -15% and 25% are the percentages used to enforce the Maximum effort rule.
 - Athlete/teams may not exceed this percentage of improvement from their preliminary score to their final score.

POLICY

In New Zealand, we have identified

- The Maximum Effort Policy (MEP) will only be enforced at ALL Tier Two/Three events in Athletics and Swimming, across all disciplines & divisions, EXCEPT in the top division (fastest division) of any event or a straight finals event where no other divisions are available.
- For all other sports, MEP will not be enforced, UNLESS the Competition Management can clearly identify an athlete/team did not complete their divisioning/Prelim Heats/Events with maximum effort with the clear intent to gain an unfair advantage.
- MEP will not be enforced in heats/preliminary rounds as athletes will be appropriately re divisioned for finals if suitable to do so.
 - Please note that as stated in sport rules article one, rule 11.3.2.3. Competition Management must consider the percentage difference between the highest and lowest scores within a division when setting maximum effort percentage. The set percentage must be higher than the difference between the top qualifying athlete and lowest qualifying athlete within that division. If the difference between is 15% or less then the 15% ME value applies.
- All athletes who are disqualified for Maximum Effort violation reasons will be awarded a Participation Ribbon in recognition of their performance.
- Disqualification through technical foul is not related to MEP. Coaches will follow SONZ rules outlined within that particular sport.
- Head coaches need to ensure that they fully understand the process that will be used within competition. Coaches and athletes that seek to take advantage of the MEP with intent to gain an unfair advantage at any stage of competition may be disqualified.
- Coaches are encouraged to submit a Performance Improvement Declaration form (PID) prior to competition or post preliminary to make sure athletes are appropriately divisioned and not at risk of being disqualified in the final round.

It is crucially important that all coaches know the Maximum Effort Rule and how the Competition Manager will enforce this during competition. The Maximum Effort rule should always be explained at the first Head Coaches meeting.

This Policy was prepared by the Special Olympics New Zealand Partnership and Sports Manager in consultation with the Special Olympics club working groups and signed off by the Special Olympics New Zealand Sports Committee.
